

Test the #1 Battery for Yourself!

It is important to provide your patients with the tools and information necessary to make a confident hearing aid battery purchase. One way to help patients feel confident with their Rayovac ProLine Mercury Free batteries is by providing them with Rayovac’s “Test the Best” brochure. This brochure explains how patients can test their batteries to compare Rayovac ProLine Mercury Free with another brand.

Inside the brochure is a chart that patients fill out that measure the date that the fresh battery is inserted to the date the battery is replaced. This allows patients to calculate their days of life of the battery. By doing this patients can see for themselves that no hearing aid battery lasts longer than Rayovac Proline Mercury Free!

ProLine® Advanced Mercury Free - Days of Life

Test the best is a risk free offer to patients that allow them to see for themselves why you stand behind Rayovac ProLine Mercury Free. If any patient is not completely satisfied, they can simply return the form and unused batteries and will receive a refund.

It is important to mention to patients who want to try this test that battery life is determined by the type of hearing aid, the hours of daily use, and the amplification strength of the hearing aid. When doing this test, be sure to use the same ear and hearing aid.
