

I'm Listening

My mom lets me be a kid. Yeah...
A tree-climbing,
dirt-lovin', wrestling in
the back of the bus,
pillow-fighting kid.
She just hooks me up.
Clips my hearing thing
to my shirt. And out the door I go. I don't worry about losing it.
The critters are in control. I am listening...
To my Mom.

Are You Listening?

Kids will be kids. And books, bikes and expensive hearing instruments can easily get lost. The solution — attach your child to the instrument! Westone® OtoClips® for kids are a mother's best friend. A lightweight lanyard attaches securely to your child's hearing instrument, and then clips firmly to your child's clothing. The cute, friendly creatures — from Dogzilla, Wabbit and Croc O 'Dile to Orkie the Whale and Rex the Brontosaurus — are guaranteed to produce a giggle while keeping a rein on that valuable hearing instrument. See your hearing healthcare professional and ask about the wide variety of children's OtoClips.®

You'll want to listen.
