

Beltone Remote Control

Product description

The Beltone Remote Control is for patients who appreciate the ability to easily and discreetly control their hearing aids.

They can use it to change programs and adjust volume, without even looking. This is thanks to a simple keypad that features large buttons, which are concave, tactile and ergonomic. They have raised symbols in the center, so they are easy to locate and glide a finger over. This is especially good for users who struggle with manual dexterity.

The Beltone Remote Control is small and handy and has a streamlined, elegant design. It fits in a handbag, a pocket or the palm of the hand like a keyless car key – and will easily blend in with other smart accessories on a desk or a dinner table.
